ATTACK PRES. COOLIDGE DUAL OFFICE ORDER

STATE'S RIGHTS INVOLVED IN ORDER ISSUED

CONSTITUTION LAWYERS FEAR EFFECT OF THE SAME MAY CAUSE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER OTHER STATE FUNCTIONS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 25.—Congress today renewed its attack on President Coolidge's order authorizing use of state, county and municipal officers as federal dry agents at a nominal salary.

An opinion by Attorney General Sargent, holding the order legal, was not accepted as final. Sargent maintained there is no statute to prevent a man from holding such dual offices.

Because of the legal precedent involved in its relations to state's rights, the order will be fought to the limit. Constitutional lawyers in congress fear if the order is allowed to stand it may lead to the federal government "taking over other state functions in the future."

Senator King, democrat, Utah, announced his intention of demanding action upon his resolution, which would authorize the senate judiciary committee to investigate the legality of the order. The resolution charges its validity is dubious.

Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, followed up his charge that the order is an illegal usurpation of state's authority by citing a unanimous supreme court decision written by the eminent John Marshall in 1819, which he contended indicates the order is legal.

The president feels that the states have not only invited federal enforcement of the prohibition act but have commanded the federal government to enter state boundaries to carry out the enforcement.

The senate again became embroiled over the legality of the president's order at the same time Mr. Coolidge was making his views known at the White House. Sen. Walsh, Montana, democrat, and ardent dry, coming to the defense of the order.

The president was within his rights, Walsh said. His position immediately was assailed by Senators George, democrat, Georgia, and Heflin, democrat, Alabama.

The president has been informed by the treasury department that the order was not meant to allow state officers to cross state boundaries in pursuit of liquor law violators. That department would not countenance such action, it was said officially.

If experience proves that the order is not practicable, the president wishes it to be modified, his spokesman said. The president feels that the feeling over his order has been exaggerated and that it is not as important as it has been pictured.

Prohibition statutes of the states themselves will affect the operation of the order, it was pointed out.

Meantime a joint resolution nullifying the president's prohibition order will be introduced in the house of representatives by Rep. Hill, republican, Maryland.

Under Hill's resolution, state officers would be required to give up their posts if they accepted commissions from the federal government to enforce the dry law.

Washington, May 25.—President Coolidge fails to see how the recent executive order allowing state, county and municipal officers to be appointed federal prohibition agents is an infringement upon states' rights or constitutional government, his spokesman declared today.

SENATE ASKS JUDICIARY COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE

Washington, May 25.—The senate today instructed the judiciary committee to investigate the legality of the executive order issued by President Coolidge to authorize designation of state, county and municipal officers as federal prohibition agents.

In the face of Attorney General Sargent's ruling that the order was legal the senate adopted a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to inquire into the order.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, introduced the resolution and stated that legality of the order was dubious.

Many senators denounced the order as an invasion of state's rights and others defended it as harmless in the debate.

The resolution adopted without ob-

LONG DORMANT VOLCANOES IN JAPAN ACTIVE

HAVOC SPREAD THROUGH THE NORTHERN PART OF ISLAND KINGDOM

RIVERS OF LAVA POURING FROM TOKACHI AND IOA MOUNTAINS

By MILES W. VAUGHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokio, May 25.—Long dormant volcanoes of northern Japan have burst into activity, spreading havoc.

The mountains are Tokachi and Ioa, in Hokkaido. Rivers of lava poured from the peaks, searing an area of eight square miles, first reports said, and destroying 300 homes.

A thousand persons are missing from a nearby agricultural farm and destruction of a section of railway by lava floods is preventing relief trains from reaching stricken area.

Dispatches from Sapporo said river beds were buried up 30 feet by the upheaval and that a stream had flooded surrounding districts. The health resort at Hokkaido was reported to have been destroyed as well as a sulphur plant there. Hokkaido is the northernmost island of Japan.

One hundred and fifty persons are known to have been killed, dispatches said, and firemen searching the ruins have recovered 50 bodies. More than 300 were injured and almost 4,000 persons are homeless in the area.

The district was crowded with holiday seekers and relief workers are being sent to the scene.

It was reported that the eruptions were continuing.

Section and without a record vote read:

Resolved that to enable the senate to determine whether legislation is advisable or not, the committee on judiciary be directed to inquire and advise the senate as to whether the executive order dated May 8 as published May 21, relating to appointments of state officers as officers of the federal government is within the legal powers of the executive.

Upon objection by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, and Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, the senate struck out the preamble to King's resolution, which charged that the order was of dubious legality.

Senator Bingham, republican, of Connecticut, succeeded in having adopted an amendment which set forth the investigation was to be conducted for the purpose of considering legislation.

GOV. BLAINE CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE

TO CAMPAIGN IN FORTHCOMING GENERAL FALL ELECTION

FOLLOWS CLOSELY EKERN'S ANNOUNCEMENT FOR GOVERNOR

By CLARENCE ENGELBRETH
United Press Staff Correspondent

Madison, Wis., May 25.—Governor John J. Blaine today formally announced his candidacy for United States senator from Wisconsin in the forthcoming general fall elections.

The announcement is the second since the recent so-called "La Follette-Blaine-Ekern triumvirate" political confab held here.

Attorney General Herman L. Ekern's announcement of candidacy for governor followed closely on the heels of the semi-secret meeting of the "Madison ring."

Previous to the meeting the candidacies of Theodore Dammann, Milwaukee, for secretary of state, and John Reynolds, Green Bay, for attorney general, were announced. Lieutenant Governor Henry Huber also announced his candidacy for re-election.

Sol Levitan, state treasurer, announced his candidacy for re-election recently.

With Blaine's announcement, the entire state progressive republican ticket is complete. Notice of the "Madison ring" meeting, choice of candidates and tentative selection of a joint platform by the Blaine faction of the republican progressive party in Wisconsin was carried exclusively by the United Press.

Blaine's formal announcement is a voluminous thing embodying as it does a tart essay on the evils of money expended in political campaigns. The second major subject engaging the governor's attention in the formal announcement is the world court.

3 ARE UNDER ARREST FOLLOWING LIQUOR DEATH

18 YEAR OLD SCHOOLBOY OF ST. PAUL SUCCUMBED TO MOONSHINE

WOMAN IN CUSTODY CHARGED WITH SELLING THE POTION

St. Paul, May 25.—(UP)—Three persons were under arrest today in connection with the death of an 18-year old schoolboy from drinking poisonous liquor.

They are Rupert Walters, Mrs. Genevieve Walters, his wife, and Mrs. Rose Huber, who were taken into custody in the investigation of the source of the liquor that caused the death of Harold Jennings, whose body was found in a school yard on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Huber is alleged to have sold liquor to Jennings. The Walters are held because a still was found in their home which adjoins that of Mrs. Huber.

Moonshine confiscated in the Huber home and the contents of the boy's stomach are being analyzed by chemists. The result of the test will determine what further action is to be taken in the case.

The largest still ever found in the country was seized in a federal raid Monday. It was buried in a hillside on the east side. Its capacity was said to be 7,000 gallons.

Major B. B. Wilcox, state enforcement director, issued a statement, warning the public against poisonous liquor.

GOV. SMALL AT GRAND JURY HEARING

ILLINOIS EXECUTIVE EXPLAINS AFFAIRS OF HIS ADMINISTRATION

IN REGARD TO THE SLAYING OF WARDEN AND ESCAPE OF 7 CONVICTS FROM JOLIET

By BERT M. DEMBY
United Press Staff Correspondent

Joliet, Ill., May 25.—Len Small, governor of Illinois, went today before a grand jury to explain affairs of his administration, which made possible the murder of a warden at the state penitentiary and the escape of seven desperate convicts.

Appearance of the governor, demanded by the grand jurors, marked the climax of the official investigation into the administration of the Illinois penitentiary and the state pardon and parole board.

Charges of corruption in high officers and allegations that notorious murderers have been able to buy, in the past, paroles through an intricate system of go betweens have been presented to the grand jury through the testimony of more than a score of witnesses. It was after hearing that the grand jurors asked State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn to subpoena the state's chief executive so that they could hear his story.

From apparently reliable sources it was learned today that the grand jury is preparing a long and comprehensive report, which probably will be made public on Wednesday. It is said to recommend the discharge of a number of the governor's appointees and many changes in the Illinois parole system.

The present grand jury investigation was started more than two weeks ago when seven convicted murderers trapped Deputy Warden Peter Klein in his office at the penitentiary, slashed him to death with knives, walked to their liberty through the gates of the prison wall and were driven away in an official prison automobile with one of their jailers as escort.

Five of the seven convicts have been captured but two still are at liberty.

The men were captured last week in a swamp near Cambridge. They are alleged to have approached a spot where part of the clothing store loot was cached. A posse which had surrounded the spot made the capture.

IRVIN S. COBB IS WITNESS IN BATH TUB CASE

HUMORIST ADDS TO SENSATION IN NEW YORK TRIAL

MISS HAWLEY'S NAME CALLED AS NEXT WITNESS, NO RESPONSE

By PAUL W. WHITE
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, May 25.—The at least temporary disappearance of Joyce Hawley and the appearance as a witness of Irvin S. Cobb, humorist, furnished the sensations of the Earl Carroll perjury trial today.

Miss Hawley was to have been at court to be called as the day's first witness. But she was not there and Cobb was called while she was awaited.

When Cobb's testimony was completed, Miss Hawley's name was called and there was no response. Investigation revealed that while she was reported to have left her apartment 45 minutes previously she had not reached the court room.

Court recessed while the prosecutor and the judge considered issuance of a warrant to force her attendance.

While on the witness stand Cobb testified that he saw the tub in which Miss Hawley is alleged to have taken her "wine bath" but he was not questioned concerning the actual appearance of the girl.

On cross examination Cobb described the liquid in which Miss Hawley "took a bath." He said it was different than anything he had ever seen—"neither red nor yellow but rosy."

Shortly after he had left the stand, Miss Hawley was called. She did not respond to her name but ran breathless into the courtroom shortly afterward just in time to prevent a bench warrant being issued for her. She launched at once into her version of the party.

MISS HAWLEY ON THE STAND

New York, May 25.—Joyce Hawley—the "bath tub girl" of Earl Carroll's now famous party—today told a jury how she had bathed in the nude in a bath tub partly filled with "liquid" while the shout of "the line forms on the right" rang through the party hall.

The former chorus girl—who claims that her age is 17—was appearing as the principal state witness in Carroll's trial for perjury.

The comely young miss created a mild sensation as she half ran into the court room today, some 53 minutes late. The judge had just prepared to issue a bench warrant for her appearance when she dashed down the aisle.

Then the details of the famous alleged "wine bath" started reaching a climax when she said that in answer to Carroll's "Baby, all right" summons she stepped into the crowded dance room—clad in chemise and shoes—behind a cloak, walked to the tub, removed her scant garments, and then started the nude bath.

Miss Hawley said she had been hired for the "bath" a week before the party, having been promised $20 for her part of the affair.

She said she arrived at the party at midnight. She explained she saw a bath tub which contained liquor and that she had several drinks. Later she claims Chris Scaife, Carroll's bodyguard, or Jimmy Carroll, Earl's brother, gave her some more drinks, and she got drunk.

"At 4 a. m.," Miss Hawley then testified, "Carroll came and said, 'Baby, all right' and I stepped into the wings and watched Mr. Carroll. I had on a chemise and shoes. Earl Carroll came up with an opera clerk and I followed him across the stage. I took off my shoes and my chemise and gave them to Mr. Carroll. I then stepped into the tub which contained about an inch and a half of liquid."

"Q—Did Mr. Carroll say anything?"

"A—Yes, he said 'let's have a drink on this beautiful figure'; that's about the worst thing he said. Then he said something about the line forming to the right and I started crying. Mr. Carroll bawled me out and after five minutes I was wheeled to the back of the stage. There I dressed and when I came back I was crying."

"When you got into the bath tub were you drunk or sober?"

"I was drunk."

Herbert C. Smythe, Carroll's counsel, cross examined her, suggesting that perhaps she did not remember things.

"I do remember things but I was feeling very good. I had to feel good to do a thing like that."

Miss Hawley said she had only been able to see Carroll once since the party after that having seen his body guard. She claims she had been promised $700 or $1,000 but never got it and has filed a suit against Carroll, the papers of which have not yet been served.

Miss Hawley charged that Chris Scaife, representative of Earl Carroll, offered her $350 if she would tell the federal grand jury the bath tub did not contain champagne. This, she said, she refused to do.

The government rested its case with the conclusion of Miss Hawley's testimony. On motion of the prosecuting attorney, the two counts in the indictment charging that Carroll gave perjured testimony regarding possession of a guest list for his party, were dismissed. The indictment had contained six counts.

PRES. COOLIDGE ADDRESSES THE PAN AMERICAN RED CROSS

MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING AND FRATERNITY MUST BE FOSTERED

SUCH RELATIONS CANNOT BE LEGISLATED BY THE GOVERNMENTS

By JOHN MONTGOMERY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 25.—President Coolidge called on the American people to show sympathy and tolerance toward the people of other nations in an address today before the Pan-American Red Cross conference.

Mutual understanding and fraternity must be fostered by the people themselves, the president pointed out. Such relations cannot be legislated by the governments, he said.

The president said in part:

Social organization seldom keeps pace with human activity in science, industry and commerce. The very complexity of modern governmental problems is appalling to those who share the responsibility in the face of these increasing problems of international intercourse. Co-operation of the peoples of the world must rest on a broad fundamental basis.

"Mutual understanding, sympathy and tolerance must grow up among the peoples themselves and cannot be imposed upon them."

"In the past the history of international relations has tended to be merely a summary of the differences between nations. Diplomatic intercourse has had as its chief purpose the settling of such differences. In the day to day routine of life problems naturally arise in which national interests and opinions may seem to differ."

"Such differences should not lead us, however, to lose sight of the fundamental unity of the human problem. The ills of humanity are common to all nations and afflict us all alike. The chief factors conditioning human life are still natural rather than social in their character."

"As mankind learns to devote its efforts to these tasks, rather than the futile and internecine strife, international relationships will become increasingly co-operative and less controversial."

Madison, Wis., May 25.—(UP)—George W. Lippert, district attorney for Marathon county, and Rodney McDonald, deputy sheriff, for the same county, were indicted jointly by a federal grand jury here today for conspiracy to violate the Volstead law.

Several scenes of the motion picture, "His Brother's Keeper," produced by the International Typographical Union, which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre here, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 1 and 2, were laid at the new headquarters of the union in Indianapolis, known as "Typographical Terrace."

The headquarters property, formerly the estate of the millionaire Murdock family, comprises five acres of wooded and beautifully landscaped grounds in addition to the large stone mansion which houses offices of the union. It is on Meridian street, the "Fifth avenue" of Indianapolis. The union recently rejected an offer to purchase the unoccupied south half of its land at a price in excess of the amount paid for the entire property.

The picture above was reproduced from a sketch by the eminent artist, Frederick Polley, whose impressions in crayon of architectural subjects, carried by leading magazines, have attracted wide attention in recent years.

Cheerful and Sturdy

Room for Small Boy

A small boy's room should be above all things cheery, sturdy—yes, but homelike and inviting. He does not appreciate all the dainty fripperies dear to his sister's heart. The wise mother plans his room so it is a pleasant place for him to store his treasures and entertain his friends without damage to fragile material and delicate colors.

As a beginning, if you are planning to refurbish your small son's room, select a warm two-tone tan-stripe paper, dark enough so dirt will not show, but light enough to give a cheerful light to the room. For decoration put one of the many bright-colored wall paper friezes at the top—about eighteen inches deep—showing in its spreading scenic design, vermillion and orange, blue and green on a cream or tan ground.

Monk's cloth draperies in warm golden brown with an orange stripe, with gold-colored undercurtains will be serviceable, surely, and decorative also. The drapery material may be used as a cover for the metal bed as well—perhaps fringed along its length. Bright colors may be added in vermillion pillows, green and red copies of old English prints on the walls and the banners and trophies dear to every youngster's heart.—Kansas City Times.

Middle-Age Philosophy

Scholasticism was the philosophy of the schools of the Middle Ages. It represented an attempt to fuse the beliefs of the church with the logic of Aristotle. The greatest teachers of the scholastic method were those of the Thirteenth century, among them being Albertus Magnus, Roger Bacon, Duns Scotus, and Thomas Aquinas. The latter, known as the "Angel of the Schools," outlined the whole scheme of Roman Catholic theology in his "Summa Theologia." Though the latter scholastics busied themselves with many unprofitable speculations—such as "How many angles can be supported on the point of a needle?"—the whole movement was valuable in awakening the mental life of Europe from the lethargy of the previous centuries, and in preparing the way for the revival of classical learning known as the Renaissance.

On Thinking

Thinking is a very dangerous business. Particularly if we believe what we think. It will lead us to do things which we may later regret. Or it will lead us not to do them, which we may regret even more. It makes for investigation and analysis—for dissection and probing—and it is not long before we begin to detect flaws in those very delights that we once believed to be perfect. We may even go so far as to discover hopeless errors in ourselves. Thus, disillusion sets in—disillusion that threads its subtle way into the contentment of our lives and spreads with lightning-like rapidity. Soon it is too late to do anything but submit. We are lost in a sea of ideas. Thinking, like love, is a game without rules. We strongly advise against it.—Exchange.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Relics of Bronze Age

Unearthed in England

On a long slope of seemingly virgin turf between the famous hills of Clisbury and Chantonbury, Sussex, England, archeologists have unearthed a site, abounding in evidences of occupation, of what is known as a late Bronze age village. Everywhere are the signs of a peaceful, cultured homestead, pastoral, yet with many of the luxuries of life brought about by 400 years of Roman civilization, and with every sign of this is a sign of the destruction wrought by the Saxon invader. The ground is littered with the Roman tiles, the Roman tile nails, fragments of walls that were once covered in the Roman manner with colored distemper. Here, in what was obviously the rubbish pit, fragments put together make up a perfect specimen of a wine cup of the classic red Samian ware, delicately ornamented with a pattern that originally came from classic Greece. Here are fragments of the great amphorae used by Romans for importing wine. It should be noted that pots made by these vanished Bronze age people and the earliest of the Celts would not stand fire, so to cook their food they heated flint stones and threw them into the water until it boiled. It is a trick of savages to this day. Once the turf is removed the soil of the downs about these villages is strewn all over with millions of flint stones bearing unmistakable signs of having been made red hot and then plunged into water.

Alterations Are Made

in Course of Years

Most people would think that the word admiral is a typical English expression. Its origin, however, is Emir el Bagh, which is Arabic for "Lord of the sea." The term admiral comes to us direct from the Latin caput, meaning head.

The coxswain was originally the man who pulled the after-oar of the captain's boat, then known as the "cock's boat." Cock-boat itself is a corruption of the word coracle, a small round boat used for fishing. Commodore is nothing more than the Italian commendatore, or commander.

Frequently we hear about "Davy Jones." There was, of course, no such person, but should you speak of "Duffy Jonah's Locker," you have the original phrase. Duffy is the West-Indian negro term for the spirit of Jonah.

The term "dog watch" is a corruption of "dodge" watch, the "dodge" being an arrangement to prevent men from being on duty every day at the same hours.

"What Is The Meaning Of Neuralgic Pains?"

PERSISTENT attacks of Neuralgic or Sciatic pains point to an impoverished nervous system and a weak, watery condition of the blood.

Darting, stabbing pains with intervals of pain or aching are common to neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago.

The pain follows the nerve trunks or spreads to other nerves and there are tender spots.

In the head—neuralgia. In the back—lumbago. In the hip—sciatica.

Temporary relief is not sufficient for the attacks become frequent and more severe as age advances and it is more and more difficult to obtain relief.

Sleep, relaxation, nutrition are necessary to restore the nervous force exhausted by the activities and worries of life.

And in this connection Dr. Chase's Tonic Pills are most satisfactory as a means of enriching the blood, strengthening the nerves and building up the system, so that it is able to throw off ailments of this nature.

DATA ON SCHOOL TAXES

RAY P. CHASE, state auditor, has given the matter of taxation close study. Prior to the town elections last March, he sent to the newspapers of Minnesota 261 illustrative tax statements covering really holdings of three well known and representative farmers in each county. The purpose of the articles was to show those who pay taxes how their money is divided between state, county, township and school districts and for what purpose each unit uses its share.

Most school elections will occur this year on Tuesday, July 20th. Many people think their school taxes are too high. The majority of educators deny this and point to the educational returns received from the money spent. Manifestly there are two sides to the argument. One is educational; are we giving maximum benefits for money spent for educational purposes? The other is fiscal; are we spending more for education than the tax-paying public can afford?

To throw all available light on the discussion, continues Mr. Chase, he is sending to the papers of the state in a few days more illustrative tax statements showing what proportion of the average farmer's tax money goes for schools and what part for other purposes.

No effort is made to prove either side of the argument referred to, says Mr. Chase. The data is not propaganda but is submitted for the information of the public and for no other purpose.

THE ROADS OF KANSAS

KANSAS is paying dearly for its parsimony in highway expenditures. Its playing the miser resulted in the federal government withholding federal aid last year until August 1. The work was seriously impeded. Three hundred and one miles of highway were constructed under old contracts, but new contracts were let for only 257 miles.

The state is now a year behind in its highway program. And goodness knows its program is trivial enough, because the local politicians cannot see the value and necessity of a comprehensive system of hard surfaced highways.

Sooner or later all the county seat merchants, bankers and newspaper proprietors will realize that a state road system is necessary to provide the farmers with avenues of approach to markets and to social contacts which are essential if the state is to maintain a contented agrarian society.

Illinois, having provided her farmers with a system of major highways giving ready access to markets, is now undertaking to construct a network of secondary roads primarily for the farmers and their families.—From Kansas Highways.

PLASTERERS' STRIKE AFFECTS LATH MILLS

THE strike called by the Plasterers' Union of Chicago in a wage discussion dispute is affecting conditions in the Park Rapids community. As a result of this strike, and the sympathetic strikes called in behalf, twenty-five lath mills operating in this vicinity have stopped work, throwing between five and six hundred men out of employment. We do not always realize how closely the business interests of the country are associated until something of this kind happens.

The Chicago plasterers want a minimum wage of $14 a day. The contractors refuse the demand, and at Park Rapids, Minnesota, 700 miles away, the mills close down and six hundred men are idle. The payrolls are suspended, business interests that have extended credit are inconvenienced, and many innocent parties to the business situation are made to suffer because unreasonable demands force an issue. Civilization is said to have progressed a long way from the starting point, but there is unmistakable evidence that there still is a long distance to be traveled in the evolution of the human mind before the ideal state of civilization is reached.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

ABOUT HOME TOWN BASEBALL

WE don't like to see too many outside faces in a home town baseball team lineup. The home town is one which should give home town ability a chance to show itself. If the home town does not recognize its budding pitchers or catchers or fielders, hardly any other town will.

Some years ago Brainerd had a baseball nine which worked a professional battery into the lineup and then followed with other semi-professionals until seven were from out of town. That did not show the right spirit. The small town like Brainerd cannot expect to compete with semi-professional or professional teams. Baseball, to be a real developer of home talent, should dwell at or near the amateur line.

Too often a team imports a paid battery and the rest of the team expects to vanquish the opposition by straight pitching, forgetting that there are seven other players on the team.

ADVOCATE ORGANIZING A NEW COUNTY

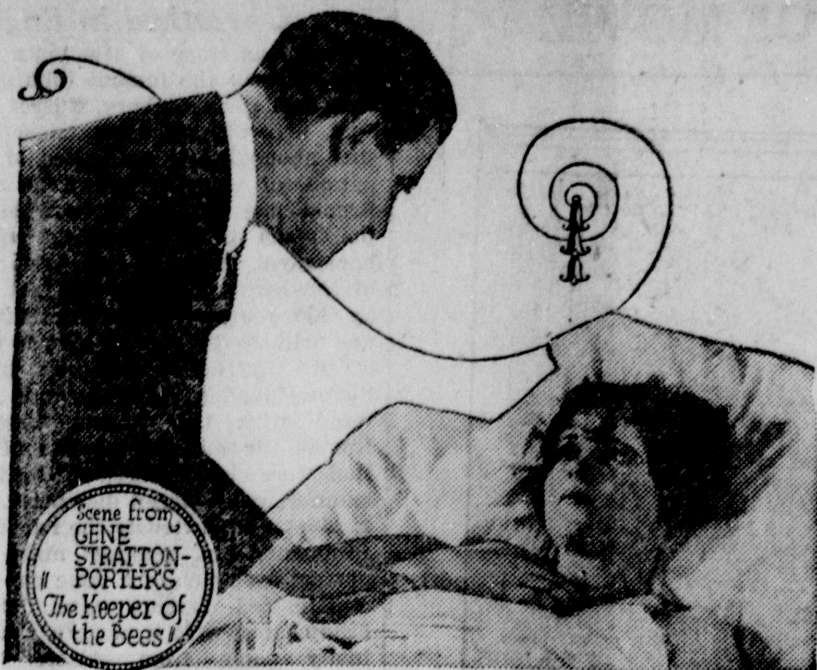

SOME time ago the Pillager Herald suggested, in a mirthful spirit, that a new county in this locality would be a benefit to the people located in southern Cass and north Morrison counties.

This is not as humorous as it appears and truly that was a good suggestion. Both counties are large and we are more or less remote from the county seats.

Both communities are wealthy and recognize no barrier and with area and wealth this matter could stand some serious consideration and would, we think, prove successful.—Motley Mercury.

MONEY spent at the start for wider paved highways will save a good many lives. If traffic continues to increase it won't be long until wider highways will be a necessity. Why not build for the future and make a twenty or twenty-four foot concrete road bed? We can be penny-wise and pound foolish with our highways.—Hopkins Review.

PEQUOT is preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July. This year the Fourth of July comes on the fifth, paradoxical as that may appear. The general rule is that when a holiday falls on a Sunday, the observance of the day is shifted to the following Monday.

Preceded by an avalanche of publicity, a great story which has been read, it is estimated, by ten million persons, comes to the screen in "The Keeper of the Bees," Gene Stratton-Porter's latest novel which will be shown here for the first time tonight when it opens a two day run at the Lyceum theatre.

Corking Good Vaudeville at New Park Tonight

Tonight's vaudeville show at the New Park theatre will include five splendid acts in addition to the feature picture "Speed Limit."

Harold Alberto, a juggling act will open the bill and offer some clever comedy juggling.

Minetti & Cooke the second act on the bill will offer singing, dancing, and accordion playing. Mr. Minetti handles the accordion in great style. His "Poet and Peasant" overture is a gem. Miss Cooke assists with song and dance.

The third number on the program is Ed. Browder & Co., two men and one woman. This is a dramatic sketch, the story of a Mexican bandit. Mr. Browder gives the portrayal of the bandit very good. He is a corking good character actor. His supporting cast adds to the act greatly. The company carry their own special scenery and runs 18 minutes.

The number four act on the bill is Wm. Morrow entitled "The Jester." Mr. Morrow's take off as the jester of the king's court is done in clever style. He does everything from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to "Shakespeare." His act is very different and will be enjoyed by all immensely.

The fifth and last act is the Grant & Wallace Revue consisting of two men and three women in songs and dances. This act is very fast and snappy. Miss Kane does some very exceptional dancing. She is beautiful to look at and has a great personality. Miss Elderley will render two high class vocal numbers and Miss Chase will preside at the piano. Messrs. Wallace and Grant are exceptionally good dancers. This is one of the best acts of its kind shown here this season.

Smallpox Still Has the Best of Science

Smallpox, historically one of the oldest diseases, has long baffled medical science. It seems to have been known from the earliest times in India. It existed in China many centuries before Christ. And the eruption on the skin of a mummy of the Twentieth dynasty, 1200-1100 B. C., suggests that it was prevalent in Egypt.

The Crusades were probably largely responsible for bringing the disease from the East to the West. Thus in the Fifteenth and subsequent centuries numerous epidemics occurred, with a high mortality.

Since the beginning of the Twentieth century two distinct types of smallpox have been simultaneously present in Great Britain, writes a physician in the London Mail. The first of these is a mild, highly infectious type, with a mortality of less than 1 per cent, which originated in the United States and Canada and was first introduced into England about 1903-5.

The second is a much more virulent type, which originated in northern Africa and spread thence to Spain, France, Italy and Great Britain. Although this variety is not so infectious, the mortality is greater.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Latex from the United States Rubber Company's Plantations is transported to this country in tank steamers, then unloaded into tank cars, and so shipped to the Company's tire factories.

Answering Some Questions About LATEX—The New Word in Tire Building

Question—What is Latex?

A—Latex is the milky-white watery liquid that flows from the bark of a rubber tree when it is tapped. It is the source of all rubber.

Q—Why then is "Latex" a new word in tire building?

A—Because it was only when the United States Rubber Company began producing Latex-treated Web Cord that Latex was used in tire building.

Q—How is Latex used in building United States tires?

A—Every cord in a tire must be impregnated with rubber before it is built into the structure. In United States Tires this is done by soaking the cords in Latex. By this method, the cords are impregnated with pure natural rubber, giving the cords exceptional flexibility and strength.

Q—If only United States Tires use Latex to impregnate the cords, how are other tires built?

A—The cords are "soluted" in a bath of dissolved rubber; or they are "frictioned"—rubber squeezed into the cords by roller pressure.

Q—Where does the United States Rubber Company get its Latex?

A—A large part of it comes from the rubber trees on its own plantations in Sumatra and Malaya; and the balance from neighboring plantations where the United States Rubber Company Plantation Experts know the proper quality can be secured.

Q—Is there then a difference in Latex?

A—Yes. Just as there is a difference in maple sugar, apples, peaches or pears, or the product of any tree.

Q—Why don't other tire builders use Latex?

A—The processes for using Latex were discovered, patented and are owned by the United States Rubber Company.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING TALKS

MRS. HARTLEY

Monday, 3:30, English III Room
Mrs. Hartley, Superintendent of Crow Wing County, gave an inspirational talk on rural teaching, urging that one "should love the labor of any trade" and not just consider it as a "bread and butter" job.

The disadvantages of rural teaching, she said, are usually offset by advantages. For instance, although the salaries of rural teachers are only from $80 to $90 a month, board is only from $18 to $20, so that a rural teacher can save as much as a better paid teacher can save teaching in a place where expenses are higher. One disadvantage of rural teaching is that there is no stabilized increase in salary. The highest salary paid in Crow Wing County this year, was $110. Another disadvantage often mentioned is that there is little social life for the rural teacher. Mrs. Hartley pointed out that there was unusual opportunity for creation of social life by the teacher.

There are two plans which may be followed for preparation for entry upon rural teaching work. One— which is not advisable—is to take a six-weeks' summer course and take the teachers' examinations in ten subjects. By this a so-called Limited Second Grade certificate may be earned. To secure a desirable position, a one-year normal training course is almost necessary. This furnishes training for 36 weeks.

Mrs. Hartley clinched her talk very fittingly and effectively by quoting:

Education is to: Increase the feeling for beauty in all man's physical being—

Stimulate the love of mental adventure and constructive doubt—

Appreciate the variety and wonder of human character, experience and achievement.

MISS WATERMAN

Miss Waterman, of the Normal Training Dept., continued the discussion of teaching by explaining about City Grade work. She stated that the teachers must be trained in five kinds of work: organization, management, instruction, discipline and training. The three fields of specialization are primary, intermediate, and upper grade work. The opportunities for service are unlimited. The salaries in Brainerd range from $110 to $132.50 a month, and that is about average for Minnesota. The disadvantages are that teaching is a nine month job with a payless vacation of three months. Since teaching at present is an overcrowded profession, the salary remuneration is not large enough for the training required. The pleasure of meeting people and watching the development of minds make teaching interesting.

The qualities required in a teacher are: scholarship, sympathy, tact, enthusiasm, good health, common sense and almost any other worth while trait that can be named. To teach in a city grade system one must be a graduate of an advanced course in normal—that is, of a two-year course—a plan which may be followed is: attend normal one year, teach a rural school one year and attend normal another year.

The cost of attending normal is $500 and up for nine months.

MISS MOSIER

Miss Mosier discussed high school teaching. She acknowledged the information given by Mrs. Hartley and Miss Waterman concerning qualifications, etc. She suggested two plans of procedure for preparing for high school teaching. A student may go two years to a normal school, then teach grades and later attend college two more years or a four-year college course may be pursued.

While at college the required number of credits in a major subject and in two minor subjects must be secured. The cost of getting a college education is from $600 to $1,000 for nine months. There are always many opportunities for self-help.

The average salary of a high school teacher in Minnesota is $150 a month. Most high school salaries range from $1,200 to $2,000 a year. The expenses of the teacher amount to about one-third of the salary.

Miss Mosier urged participation in extra-activities while in college, in as much as ability to handle extra-activities often increases the chances of securing a good position. Development of such ability, she suggested, might offer a solution for making a place for oneself in an overcrowded field.

MISS ERSTAD

Miss Erstad addressed a large student body on Friday morning, 8:30 to 9, on the subject of commercial work. As the commercial field is so broad, only the larger groups were discussed. Under the grouping we find transportation, real estate, inurance, banking, statistical research, bookkeeping, stenography, secretarial work and the various smaller branches.

Insurance work is perhaps one of the broadest commercial fields open today and affords plenty of room for advancement and improvement. One must have a pleasing personality, the desire to serve and perseverance to become a good insurance salesman, but if he sincerely tries he has every chance to make a successful career and attain the highest positions in this field. No special education is needed, but a good education is helpful and is almost necessary to the good salesman. The agents receive a salary and commission.

To enter the statistical research work one must have a fairly good education, a four-year course in college is desirable, and must have a general knowledge of economics, accounting, salesmanship, and must like figures; have a high degree of accuracy and good judgment. The work involves the making of statistical records for the government and is an interesting branch of the commercial field. Salaries range from $125 to $150 and up. Washington is the center of the statistical work.

For accounting and bookkeeping a college or a business education is desirable. Miss Erstad will give advice to any desiring a conference on this subject, and will give the necessary information.

A high school course, with a course in a reliable business college, is the preparation needed for the usual stenographic work. Salaries range from $50 to $80 a month, with slight chances for advancement.

The private secretary needs a four year college course, or two years of business college preparation—the four-year college course being preferable. Her work is exacting and is carried out systematically, requiring good judgment, tact, and a good business head, and an interest in the work itself. She has a position which affords chances for advancement and receives a salary far greater than that of the regular stenographer or office worker.

A business college education and two years of normal training are required of a teacher of commercial subjects. Some states require a four year college course. White Water Normal in Wisconsin offers a good four-year course, and all universities offer commercial courses.

FRANK JOHNSON

Frank Johnson began a new week of vocational guidance lectures with a well appreciated talk on pharmacy, given Monday morning at 8:30.

Mr. Johnson first told of the development of the drug store, describing the old time methods of compounding drugs and the new business of selling patent medicines and sundries. The work is divided into two groups, the prescription work which includes the compounding and preparing of drugs, and the sales work which includes the sale of patent medicines and sundries. A four years training with two years of experience are required to become a registered druggist. The tuition fees are about one hundred dollars a year. This does not include expenses outside of books, etc. A knowledge of Latin is absolutely necessary as Latin is the scientific language of the world and all prescriptions are written in it.

Chances for specializing are few except in large doctor's offices where a private drug department is operated or in the drug department of a hospital. These positions, however, are generally occupied by women.

Remuneration for pharmacists is governed by the locality in which they are working. The average druggist, working under some one else receives about one hundred twenty-five dollars per month.

There are considerable disadvantages in pharmacy, some of which are: long hours, grouchy customers, keen competition, difficulty in refilling prescriptions, and the necessity of being immaculate at all times. Mr. Johnson related some very funny personal experiences with irate customers.

MISS LAIPPLE

Due to the change from the regular program time to Monday afternoon, Miss Laipple's talk on Science was not so well attended as it otherwise would have been.

Since the audience was small the lecture took the form of individual talks with the students present. Miss Laipple gave some very valuable advice regarding subjects to pursue and the best schools to attend. All questions were answered concerning every branch of science. The following are some interesting facts presented in connection with the various topics. Over a thousand women are now employed as chemists in soap, dye, textile and other manufacturing companies. There is a very large field open in the teaching of science and its branches. Many chemists are now employed by the government in the departments of agriculture, forestry and research work. All destructive insects come from outside of the United States, thus opening the interesting field of entomology to destroy them. Ornithology, the study of the habits of birds, is one of the most interesting fields any lover of nature can enter.

MRS. C. D. MCKAY

A large group of students, including girls as well as boys, attended the talk on United States Marine service given by Mrs. C. D. McKay on Tuesday morning at 8:30.

Mrs. McKay introduced her subject with a brief history of the work of the coast guards, beginning with the original organization in 1790 and tracing it to the present time. The school for coast guard training is located at New London, and ranks close to Annapolis. It offers a complete naval course of three years, including two cruises in the last two summers of training.

A candidate must have a high school education, with sufficient knowledge of mathematics, English and history, to pass a rigid test. A physical examination is given, too, and must be passed by all students before entering the academy.

An entrance fee of $200 is required, and care free to the academy, if the student lives in a distant state, is refunded upon his arrival. All financial problems are controlled by the school officials, and a sum of $40 is banked for expenses each month and out of this the student must buy his clothes and necessary equipment. An accurate account of every cent spent is required.

The student upon graduation is ranked as an ensign with a salary of $1,500 a year and chances for advancement. His work is to aid in protecting the United States from rum-runners, waging a continuous warfare upon ice-bergs, collecting mail from fishing-boats, and to do such work as is assigned to him.

Mrs. McKay's talk was interesting, instructive and the subject well covered in the time permitted.

E. F. GATES

Since E. F. Gates is such a well-known dry goods merchant his talk Wednesday morning at 8:30 on the openings in the mercantile field was received with interest on the part of all.

The topic was divided into two major groups, wholesaling and retailing. The wholesale work includes the buying of goods in large quantities at home and abroad. The most of the fine laces, linens, Philippine embroidery work, and many of the finer articles of apparel must be purchased abroad. This requires a good deal of purchasing ability upon the part of the purchaser but at the same time it offers an opportunity for foreign travel and for the most part is intensely interesting. The majority of the people employed in the wholesale business are men as most of the work requires physical labor.

The retail part of the business handles all the detail of selling the goods to the public, and women seem especially fitted for this work. Imagination is a valuable asset for it enables one to present goods from all over the world in an attractive and appealing manner to the public. A good knowledge of accounting is important in the retail business, so a course in bookkeeping or arithmetic is valuable. Mental arithmetic plays an important role in the work. Mr. Gates summed up the desirable qualities in the word "area"—a for ability, r for reliability, 2 for endurance and a for action.

Advertising is a very interesting branch of the work. This requires imagination and the ability to present an idea to the public so it will attract attention. Young women score in this work as they are capable of bringing out even the finest details. Designing also opens an interesting and profitable field to people with artistic ability and new ideas. This branch is exceedingly fascinating.

Chances for specializing in the mercantile field are numerous. Laces, buying and special buying of apparel bring high incomes to capable people.

The amount made in any branch of the work depends, of course, upon the ability of the person. The minimum wage in Minnesota is eleven dollars and fifty cents a week.

JOHN A. HOFFBAUER

John A. Hoffbauer of the Brainerd Dispatch addressed a large group of students on the subject of journalism Thursday morning, 8:30 to 9.

He began his talk with a history of the evolution of the American newspaper, and traced its growth down to the present time.

In discussing the matter of educational requirements for newspaper work, Mr. Hoffbauer said that a college education was usually required, but that no amount of education alone could place one in the class of city newspaper men. Experienced workers only are in demand, and it is therefore necessary to work for some time in smaller newspaper offices to gain practical experience. A journalistic course is offered in most universities, and apprentice printers are taken into the office for a apprenticeship of five years, usually with a salary of some ten dollars a week.

There is no standard wage for the journalist; he is paid according to the kind and amount of work he submits.

Journalists are ranked as: first, city editors; second, copy-readers; and third, reporters. There are various other departments in which a great number of men and women are employed.

As a basis for good journalistic work, Mr. Hoffbauer gave the following: good habits, good common sense, a character sensitive to places, people and all kinds of situations, a good education, a good memory, and the ability to apply principles of journalistic work.

Almost all work submitted is anonymous, and the reporter must not look for personal glory. The journalist should take an active part in community work (to which there is no limit), and should believe firmly in his work.

In writing up any subject several rules must be followed. All work submitted should be typewritten, double-spaced and with uniform indentation, and on one side of the paper. The topic should be covered in the first paragraph. Mr. Hoffbauer suggested that to have answered the question, "What? Who? Where? Why? When?" in the first paragraph is to have composed an ideal beginning of a newspaper story. The use of too many words should be avoided.

Mr. Hoffbauer announced the coming of a news-reel at one of the local theatres very soon, showing the old and new methods of printing and pictures of a typesetting contest. Particulars will be found in a later number of the Dispatch.

CIVICS, COMMERCIAL
CLASSES VISIT COURT

The Civics and Commercial Law Classes made their annual visit to court last Tuesday morning and afternoon. Miss Hall, having charge of the classes, conducted the students for the opening session at 9 o'clock.

The case was a civil suit brought against the Western Union Telegraph for delayed delivery. The students were very privileged to hear a man of such talent and varied experience as Judge Elliot who has acted on the bench in Supreme Court, and took part in the Hague Peace Tribunal. The students who were very interested that they returned in the afternoon to hear the remainder and some were excused to attend part of the session on Wednesday.

This visit is an annual event for the classes after having studied law and court proceedings in classes. It was highly educational as well as vocational. The class was complimented by Judge Stanton for interest and good behavior shown during the attendance at the trial.

TEST CONDUCTED BY
U. OF M. PROFESSOR

An interesting test was conducted by Mr. Lavgil in the University of Minnesota for the Seniors of the local high school last Tuesday. The purpose of this was to acquaint the students with the type of questions that are expected to pass at the "U" upon admission there. This also eliminates all persons who are not able to pass it, from wasting time and money in attending college.

The completion test was the first to be given, in which twenty-five sentences were to be completed in ten minutes. The Seniors considered themselves lucky if they got half through. Although students are supposed to have mastered most of Webster by their last year in high school, the Seniors were completely floored by some of the words which they never considered had existed.

The next section contained such question as: Do you like fat men? Do you prefer to sleep in someone else's bed rather than your own? Vocational questions were also asked which tended to aid students in choosing a profession most suited to his or her temperament.

This test lasted for two hours, thereby enabling the Seniors to be absent from all afternoon classes—so it had its compensations after all.

ATHLETICS

Brainerd 18, Staples 6

The local high school nine won its third straight victory of the season last Friday by defeating Staples by an easy score of 18 to 6.

The Staples team had a new man on the mound for them, Bryson who had been kept out of play earlier in the season by a sprained ankle. Brainerd started scoring early, getting one run in the first inning. Fitzharris, the first man at bat, clouted out a three-bagger. Lowe did the same thing, scoring Fitzharris, but was caught napping on third, when he should have scored on Wise's single. Van Walk passed Allen, the first man up for Staples; Allen scored on an error.

In the second and third innings, Brainerd scored four more runs, holding Staples. In the fourth both broke even with three runs apiece. Between the fourth and eighth innings Brainerd scored three runs to none for Staples. In the eighth Brainerd took three to two for Staples, but in the ninth inning Brainerd strengthened her lead by adding four runs.

This was the second game won from Staples, one being taken earlier in the season. The team is now practising hard and looking forward to their game with Crosby-Ironton here Saturday. Crosby defeated the locals earlier in the season but a win will mean tie for first place in the district.

BACCALAUREATE
SERVICES SUNDAY

On last Sunday evening the baccalaureate services for this year's graduating class were held in the high school assembly in the presence of members of the class and a large number of friends and relatives.

The exercise opened with two selections by the high school orchestra, which were followed with two songs by a chorus of girls from the Glee club. An invocation by Rev. Patterson was next, after which the girls' chorus again sang. Rev. Evraz gave an appropriate scripture reading. After a vocal duet by Bernice Samuelson and Violet Stanley, came the main address of the evening delivered by Rev. Bollens. It contained much which will be of

BOBBY JONES WINS GOLF MATCH IN BRITAIN

DEFEATS MAJOR ORMEROD BY 3 AND 2 SCORE

OULMET AND VON ELM SCHEDULED TO MEET IN AFTERNOON MATCH

GARDNER OF CHICAGO PLAYED GLASGOW MAN THIS MORNING

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Muirfield, Scotland, May 25.—Bobby Jones, American champion, today won his first match in the British Amateur Golf championship, defeating Major C. B. Ormerod of Mid-Surrey, 3 and 2.

Shortly after this had been checked to the credit of the American forces, Watts Gunn, young playmate and protege of Jones, turned in another victory, beating F. Lee Stone, 2 up.

Young Roland MacKenzie of Washington, however, saw the star of his ambition fall behind the steady drive of D. H. Kyle, from Roehampton. The slender American whose powerful drives and skillful short game made him the wonder of the first day's play, started off miserably this morning and despite his efforts to recover, was one down at the finish.

Jones' victory kept intact the record of invading Walker Cup team members, but a twist of the draw made it certain that at least one would be forced out of the competition.

Francis Ouimet of Boston and George Von Elm of San Francisco were scheduled to meet in an afternoon match and one must drop. Another Walker Cup player to tee off this morning was Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, who played H. M. Dickson of Glasgow.

Rain fell heavily during the night, but the course showed no ill effects today. Play began with the weather sultry and the bothersome wind for the moment taking a vacation.

The Americans sustained their first serious setback when Dickson defeated Bob Gardner, 3 and 2. The Chicagoan was four down at the ninth and was unable to overcome that handicap.

E. H. Bankard of Illinois also was defeated. He dropped his match with R. G. Henderson of Gullane, 4 and 3.

J. B. Ryerson of Onwentsia, Ill., was scratched.

Sir Ernest Holderness, former champion, defeated Allan J. Graham from Royal Liverpool club, runnerup in 1921, 5 and 4.

Other prominent survivors included C. C. Aylmer of Ranzlugh and Carl Bretherton of Handsworth.

Douglas Grant, Anglo-American of the Royal St. Georges club, England, defeated W. A. Powell, of Addington, England, 4 and 3.

The British received another severe setback when Stuart Forsythe, Edinburgh, Burgess club, defeated T. F. Ellison, of the Royal Liverpool club, by two holes. Ellison is the English closed amateur champion.

Grant E. Peacock of Garden City, N. Y., defeated James Brook, of Prestwick, 6 and 5.

W. McAllum from Sonning, was eased out of the running by Lawrence M. Lloyd of Greenwich, Conn., who came home one up.

Muirfield, Scotland, May 25.—Two great American golfers—Bobby Jones and Francis Ouimet—emerged from the play for the British amateur golf championship winners today and now appear to carry the hopes of an American victory on their shoulders.

Two only slightly great because less experienced in matches of the calibre of this event over the delightful Muirfield course, went down to defeat. They were Roland MacKenzie, young sensation from Washington, D. C., and George Von Elm, of California.

Watts Gunn, protege of Jones, won his match, as did Jess Sweetser of New York. Bobby's game was indifferent. His opponent, Major C. B. Ormerod, is only a fair player. Ouimet, too, in winning, was compelled to put out of the running Von Elm whose game during the last year has ranked him high. Ouimet came in 3 up on the Californian with 2 to play. Still another blow was delivered the chances of the visitors from the United States when Robert A. Gardner, captain of the Walker Cup team, was defeated by H. G. Dickson of Glasgow.

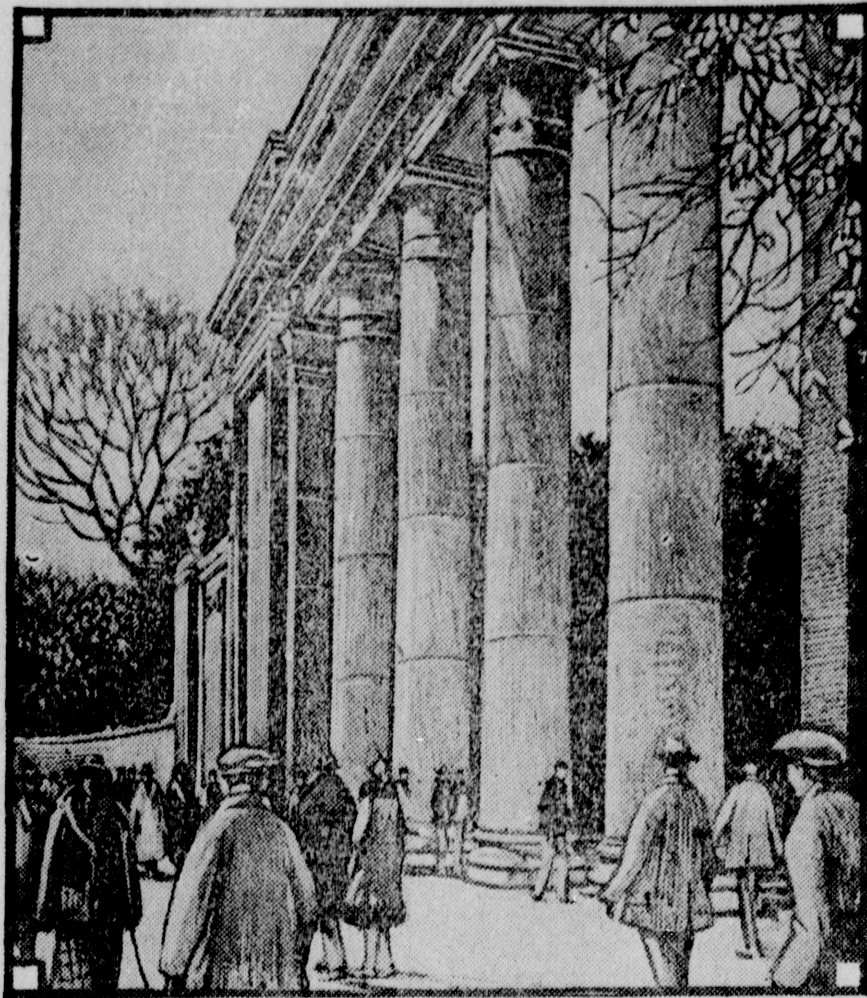

But the sensation of the day came when Roland MacKenzie, whose game yesterday was the talk of the golf fans, succumbed to D. H. Kyle of Roehampton, 1 down. The Washington youth got away to a bad start, taking seven on the first hole.

Ed Walsh Struck Out 10 Men

South Bend, Ind.—Ed Walsh, son of the former White Sox star, struck out 10 men, adding Notre Dame to defeat the University of Georgia, 4 to 2.

Walter Camp Memorial Gateway

THIS imposing entrance to the famous Yale Bowl and other Yale athletic fields at New Haven, Conn., is to be the central feature of the $300,000 national memorial to the late Walter Camp. Under plans sponsored jointly by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Yale University the tribute to the man who, during his life, was more intimately connected with the development of American football than any other individual is to be erected through gifts from 458 colleges and universities situated in every state in the Union. Scores of "prep" schools have also been invited to participate in the memorial. It is estimated that half a million people will pass through this memorial archway every college year.

In order that each one of them may know the extent of the affection for Walter Camp which existed on every college campus throughout the country the Memorial Committee has adopted a unique plan. On either side of the gateway pictured above will be a huge bronze panel on which will be inscribed the names of every "prep" school, college and university which contributes to the memorial fund. Yale alumni, through their committee, have pledged themselves to raise $150,000 of the cost. The remaining half is to be raised among all other colleges through a special committee headed by E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, chairman of the Football Rules Committee.

SEALS OF DOC STEINFELDT TURN TABLES

DEFEAT CRACK Y TEAM BY A SCORE OF 8 TO 3

DOC IMPRESSED HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND BYSTANDERS INTO LINE-UP

The Seals, Dr. A. A. Steinfeldt's new aggregation of ball players, turned the tables on the crack Y. M. C. A. team last night in a city league fixture, winning by the score of 8 to 3.

Dr. Steinfeldt who had a hard job lining up a team, finally placed a team on the field composed of high school boys and bystanders. It was this team who came through with the goods to administer the first defeat of the season to the "Y" team. "Wotta inning" for the Seals in the fourth. They commenced pounding the pill inside the infield and it seemed that the "Y" boys had gloves on both hands. They appeared almost helpless, showing decided poor form. Six runs were piled against them before the final man was finally put out.

The Y. M. C. A. started their scoring in the second inning when they crossed their three men over the home plate.

The teams lined up as follows:

Big Ten Outdoor Track Meet Saturday

Iowa City, Ia., May 25.—(UP)—The Big Ten outdoor championship track meet is to be run off here Saturday with three teams standing out most prominently.

Michigan, through virtue of early victories over Illinois and Iowa, is considered the leading contender, but Illinois and Iowa, are conceded an excellent chance of winning the event.

Principal interest in this year's meet centers about the mile relay, which is considered the key to the championship for either one of the contenders. Michigan has the same team which won the 1925 mile event but both Illinois and Iowa have all star teams groomed for the race.

For Real Comfort Buy a Good Looking Smock In the Popular Coat Style

The Smock, on account of its comfort, practicability and neatness has proven to be a wonderfully satisfactory garment.

Made from cotton suiting, in bright shades of blue, orange, green, rose, more sober tan and brown, they make an ideal garment to slip on over one's frock to keep it fresh and clean.

They slip on and off so easily, and this Barmon Smock, which we sell, has an inverted plait in the back, cut with a smooth fitting sleeve and shoulder. It is several inches longer than most of the smocks, so that it affords complete protection to the skirts and hangs much prettier than the shorter ones.

You will surely be delighted with one if you try it and the comfort and service will be appreciated. Priced reasonably at $2.00, $2.39, $3.00, $4.00.

A Good Place To Trade

Cockroach a Standpatter

Scientists have discovered the humble, much despised cockroach ranks first in antiquity among all the creatures of the earth, and shows no change whatever from his ancestors of 200,000 years ago. If there is anything in this talk of evolutionists that creatures are ever changing, why is it that the cockroach has not changed? The answer is easy; the cockroach had no cupboards, pantries or ice boxes to get into centuries ago.—Capper's Weekly.

The Housewife Does Without.

"Pa," said Clarence, "what's the difference between a housewife and a baker?" "None of your foolishness, now, young man," growled his dad. "Well," replied Clarence, "a baker and a housewife both make bread out of dough, but the difference is the baker makes his dough out of bread."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The supposition is that bees are attracted to flowers primarily by their odor, but the color does have a certain attraction. Blue, for instance, will attract bees most readily.

For the Third Time

Commander Donald B. MacMillan has ordered from Swift & Company the meat products for his latest Arctic Expedition.

Commander MacMillan's scientific studies in the Polar Regions have brought him world-wide recognition.

The noted explorer realizes the necessity of having the best foods and supplies in order that members of his party may enjoy the good health necessary to carry on their labors.

In 1923 Swift & Company was proud to be called upon to furnish the supplies for the expedition.

In 1925 a repeat order for the Geographic Society trip was a satisfaction.

In ordering for the trip scheduled to start from Wiscasset, Maine, on June 1st, Commander MacMillan said, "We want supplies such as you have furnished before, the best as always and packed with the usual Swift care."

When the Bowdoin and the Schem sail, Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, Brookfield Butter and "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, and other products will help to furnish many appetizing Arctic meals.

Birds As Home Decorators

Modern Home Furnishing Finds Feathered Guest Room An Aid to Good Taste

WHEN, incident to a fire recently in a New York bird store, it became known that this one dealer had in stock 5,000 canaries, comment was made upon the obviously great extent of what was supposed to be a small business—the canary industry. This impression was strengthened when the newspapers within the past week carried an item about four car-loads of bird cages being shipped by manufacturers on a single order.

One explanation of this lies in the increasing use of pet birds to carry out interior decorating schemes. How did this come about? Emerging from the dark days of the General Grant period, the American housewife or home architect cast about for a new and more authentic expression of her American self. It was then that she discovered colonial America and we swiftly marched into a new era of carved huts, fan lights, simple columns, Windsor chairs, and hooked rugs. Having established the essential background of her house, the home decorator began an adventure in color and ornament. Here she found a whole new realm of possibilities. The latest of these is the bird cage. These are no longer merely wire cages. The modern study the precise color of the bird and then house it in a cage of a color which will set off his beauty to the greatest advantage. Others use the bird cage to supply a sudden vivid note of color against a sober background. The combination of brilliant song and brilliant color produce an inspiring effect in the most work-a-day household. Modern aesthetic requirements also demand that the form of the cage conform with good taste. Here again the home decorator has contrived to evolve bird cage shapes which are pretty and distinctive. Notable among these is the antique lantern bird house, the mission, the mandarin, the pagoda, the bungalow and the busy design. The cage standards are in themselves an advance in bird cage art, being fashioned in airy parabolas or constructed in the shape of torches.

common stocks. Included in the oils which reflected good trade conditions were Atlantic Refining, Marland, Skelly and Pure Oil. Crude rubber was off while French and Belgian francs moved lower. The market closed irregular.

Total Paid Attendance at New Madison Square

Boxing, now in the class with "big business," brought a return of nearly one million dollars to the new Madison Square garden corporation for the winter campaign just closed.

Sixteen ring shows, held in Tex Rickard's new arena between December 11 and March 25, drew total gate receipts of $934,619, according to official figures just made public. The total attendance was 226,701. The average "gate" was $58,414, and the average attendance 14,169.

The largest total paid attendance, 17,977, registered at the season's closing show with Young Stribling and Jimmy Slattery as headliners, also set a record for indoor boxing anywhere in the country.

Unkind

The man and the girl were sitting out at a dance, and for some time there had been silence between them. "Do you know," he said at last, "that every evening before I go to bed, I write down my thoughts in my diary? Interesting, don't you think?" "Oh, most," she answered. "How long have you been doing it?"

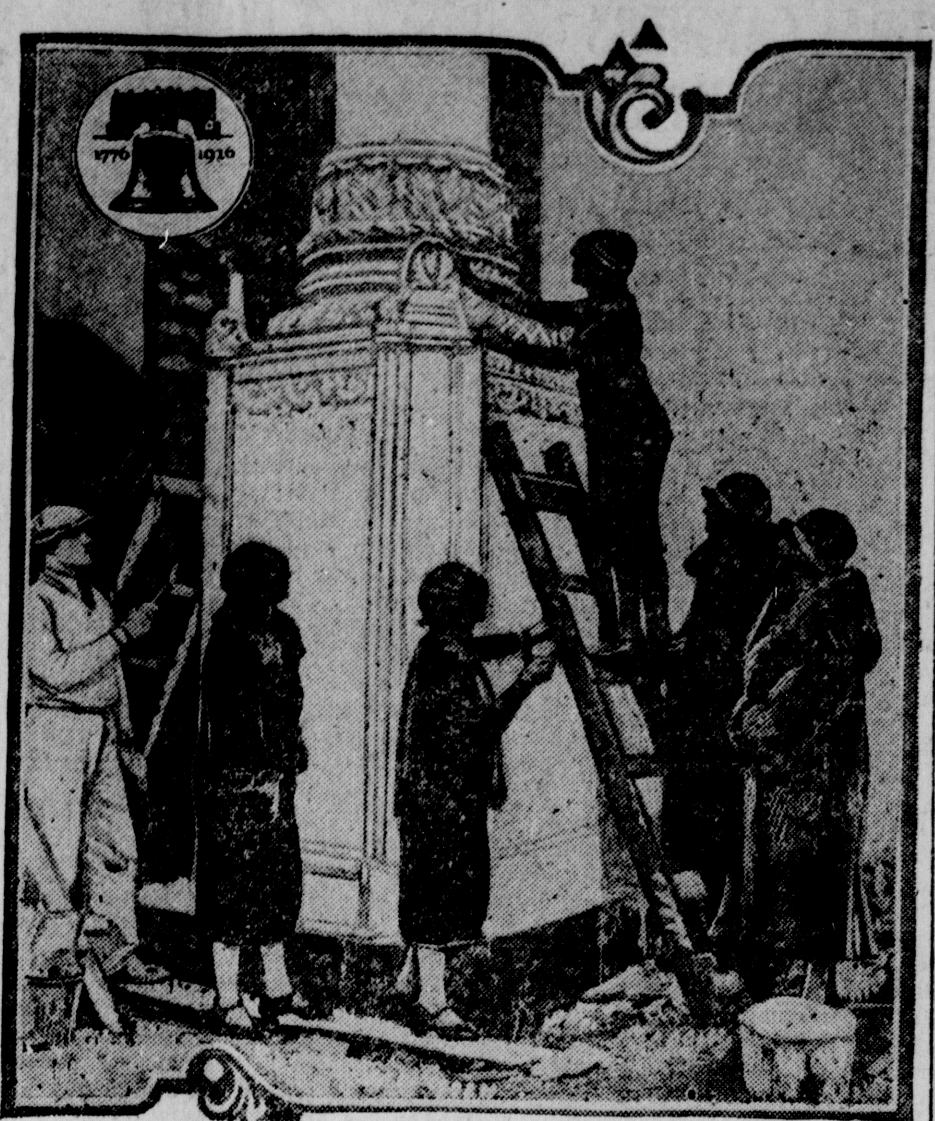

"About a couple of years," was the reply.

"Indeed!" said the girl, sweetly; "then you must have the first page nearly full."

Greatest of All Powers

In all nations truth is the most sublime, the most simple, the most difficult, and yet the most natural thing.—Mme. De Sevigne.

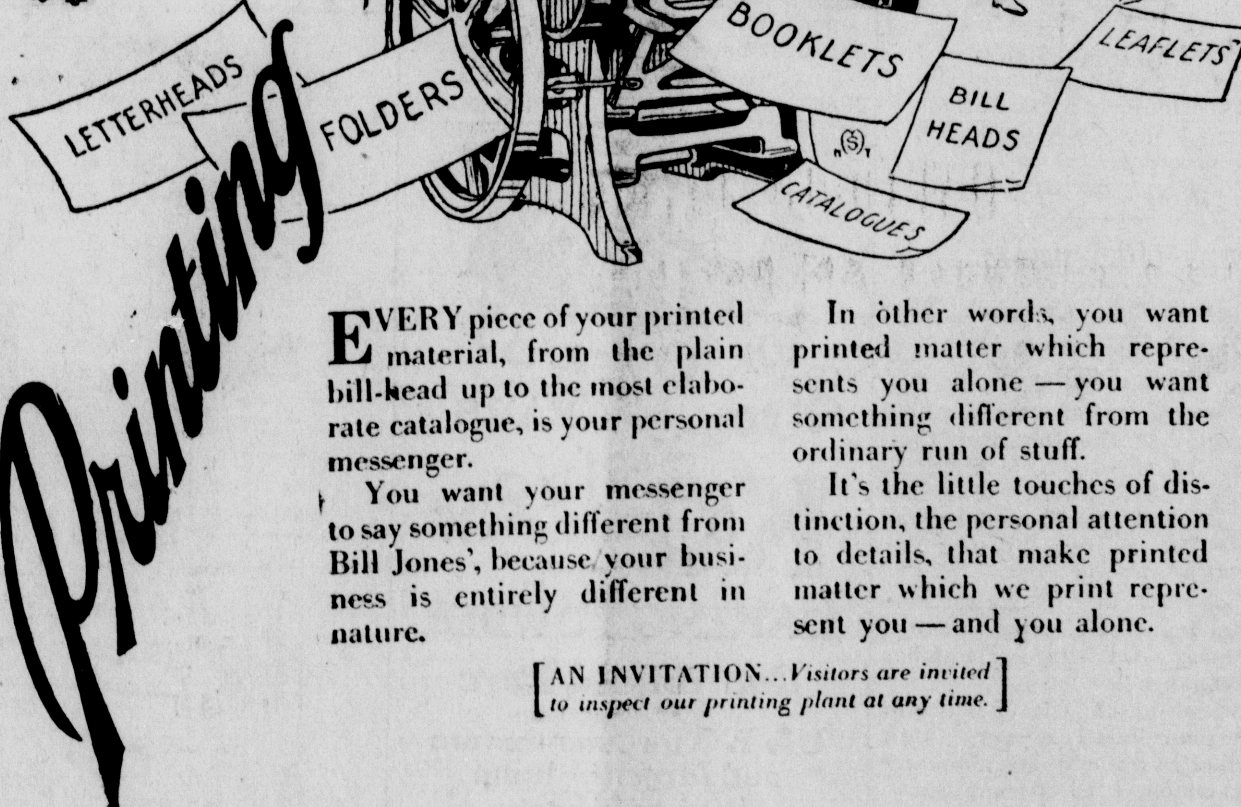

FROM PALETTE TO MORTAR BOARD

Young women artists turn from their jars of color and paint brushes to assist plasterers in setting ornaments in place atop huge pylons which adorn the main entrances to the Palace of Agriculture and Food Products, of the vast exhibition buildings which form a part of the great Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition being staged in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Climbing ladders and walking along rickety scaffolds is nothing new to these young ladies, but each time they do it they get a thrill.
